Dear Mr Corcoran and Mr Butler

Thank you for your request to use photographs of the Rising Sun badge, as well as other emblems and embellishments of the Australian Army, in a historical book titled 'Metal Uniform Embellishments of the Australian Army'.

The request is approved and you are authorised to display the Australian Army emblems in their entirety and original forms. Images of Australian Army emblems are not to be renamed, cropped, manipulated or edited in any way, used in part or overlaid with another image.

In accordance with Section 83 of the Defence Act 1903 and the Trade Marks Act 1995, the Australian Army owns the copyright of the Australian Army emblems. You are not authorised to assign or attempt to assign any right to a third party on the basis of this approval.

Thank you for taking the time to contact us with your request.

Yours sincerely,

WB Stothart, AM
